Costly Strike Against N. Y. Papers Ends

Delivery Workers Get Pay Hike And Greater Benefits

NEW YORK (AP)—The costliest newspaper strike in the city's history is over.

Deliverers went back to work early today with a new two-year contract. It gave them a $5.30 wage increase and fringe benefits. They ratified it Sunday, 2,091-537, ending the 20-day walkout.

The strike cost estimated at $6 million.

All four morning newspapers published. Editions began hitting the streets at 2 a. m., four hours after the strike's end.

They were the first since Dec. 11, when the nine major daily newspapers halted operations.

Plants of the five afternoon papers buzzed again with activity as they resumed normal schedules.

Hundreds of newsstand dealers threw open their shutters. New Yorkers normally purchase 5 1/2 million copies daily and 8 1/2 million Sundays.

A back-to-work call went out to the independent Newspaper and Mail Deliverers Union's 4,400 members and to 45,000 nonstriking newspaper employees laid off when the plants shut down.

Terms of the agreement were settled by negotiators Friday night.

The new contract included a $3.55 pay increase the first year and $1.75 the second. Benefits included Columbus Day off as a ninth paid holiday and three days of sick leave annually, to begin in 1960. Unused sick leave will be paid in wages at the new scale.

The deliverers also won a reduction in work hours.

Research Shows
Drug Can Halt
Dog Pregnancy

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (AP)—Successful use of a simple drug which reverses pregnancy in dogs was reported today by a Yale pathologist.

The drug, known as mifepristone, does not cause abortion, said Dr. Leon F. Whitney of the university's medical school staff.

When injected, the drug causes the pregnant female dog to reabsorb the embryo into her blood stream, explained Dr. Whitney.

He describes his studies in Veterinary Medicine Magazine.

He said the drug was used on many bitches between the 10th and 42nd day of pregnancy, and was successful in all cases. The gestation period of a bitch is 61 days.

Two Brothers Leave Home,
Cause Collision Of Trains

EVANSVILLE, Ind. (AP)—Light, a small community about 14 miles from here. Two trainmen were injured.

Minutes later the boys, whose names were not disclosed, were apprehended a short distance from the collision.

The older boy told police his brother got a foot caught in a railroad switch and he changed it to get the foot loose. That caused the moving freight to crash into the one on the siding. Officials said the switch was not locked.

The boys, who were frightened and "very sorry" about the train crash, were turned over to their parents.

About nine hours later a New York Central freight train crashed into a diesel engine and three freight cars on a siding at Day.

Writes To Schoolboy

Jap Admiral Tells Why He Retreated

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A Japanese admiral has told a U. S. schoolboy his fear of a trap led him to withdraw his fleet when the Americans invaded the Philippines in World War II.

The 2,000-word letter of Vice Adm. Kiyohide Shima to 16-year-old Bill Frazer of Pacoima, Calif., broke the admiral's long silence on a mystery which has puzzled war historians.

Frazer had asked Shima why he pulled his forces out of the crucial battle of Leyte Gulf in October 1944. The youth will use the information in a history term paper in junior high school.

Expressing gratitude for the admiral's response, young Frazer added: "I hope I get an A on the paper."

While U. S. forces were fighting for a foothold on Leyte Island, Shima withdrew the ships of his 2nd Division from a running sea battle in Surigao Strait.

The admiral wrote Frazer that the Japanese 1st Division of Vice Adm. Nishimura was destroyed by the Americans. Shima's own flagship, the heavy cruiser Nachi, was crippled by a collision with another Japanese cruiser and was limited to a top speed of 20 knots.

All factors made him decide the Americans were waiting for him in force.

"It was quite clear that we should only fall into a ready trap," Shima said. "I considered all such events, circumstances, possibilities. Then I came to my decision that it would be better to retreat from the strait and wait a chance to know how everything went."

The Los Angeles Examiner, which published the copyrighted letter, said it is "certain to be one of the great historical documents of the war in the Pacific."

In a preface to his answer, the admiral wrote:

"I can even now assure you that my decisions and judgments of the day in Surigao Strait were adequate and proper. I have never made any protest or any sort of thing against misunderstandings. I do believe that the truth would prove by itself in the long run of history."

"But this time," he continued, "I am deeply impressed by your eagerness and enthusiasm to find out the truth of the war in spite of your age."

Reich Official
Held In Berlin
As Spy For Reds

BERLIN (AP)—A top official of a private West Berlin intelligence agency has been arrested on suspicion of being a Communist spy.

West Berlin police said the man is Dr. Kurt Werner, 59, head of an economic section of the League of Free Jurists.

The Free Jurists—an organization which has received moral and financial support from prominent lawyers in the Western world—gathers evidence of legal injustices in Communist East Germany. It has widespread underground contacts in the East.

Werner knew the names of some of these underground contacts, and police suspect him of giving given the East German secret police information on them.

France Starts Drastic Cleanup
DeGaulle Orders Hardship Measures To Help Economy

PARIS (AP)—France today embarked on a new year's housecleaning of her economy.

It was bad news all along the line for most French people, but Premier Charles de Gaulle said it was the only way to get out of a dangerous situation.

In a nationwide radio and television address Sunday night, de Gaulle presented only the melancholy big picture. The sad details of the new austerity will be in the fine print of the official journal, which prints all government regulations in the next few days.

These were the major hardship measures announced by the Premier.

Devaluation of the franc by 17.5 per cent, cutting prices of French products abroad but raising them and of imports for the home folks.

Partial convertibility of the franc, allowing foreigners to dip into France's small stock of gold and dollar exchange without comparable liberalization for Frenchmen wanting to buy, travel or invest abroad.

A budget of nearly 15 billion dollars, up more than two billion dollars from last year.

A variety of tax increases and cuts in subsidies the government has been paying to producers to keep prices of many things down.

The government estimates this will keep the budget deficit to about $1,100,000,000, some 300 million less than it was last year.

But the loss of subsidies will send prices on those items up.

More spending in Algeria, both for the military campaign against the nationalist rebellion and for the ambitious economic program de Gaulle wants to launch to better the lot of the Moslems.

The little he promised to brighten the dark picture included a raise in the lowest minimum wage levels, and increases in unemployment benefits to bring jobless pay to the minimum wage. There was also indication of improved hospitals, housing and schools.

Road Death Total Stays Below 600

Holiday Mishaps Fail To Go Over Council Estimate

Traffic 592

By The Associated Press

Updated reports today swelled the nation's toll of dead from traffic accidents over the four-day Christmas weekend to nearly 600.

Tragic as it was, the number of fatalities was fewer than the pre-holiday estimate of 620.

Early in the long holiday, with highway deaths occurring at a much faster pace than anticipated, it appeared the final count would be far greater than the estimate.

But three-quarters through the weekend the rate of deaths slowed as motorists—apparently shocked by the awesome toll the first three days—exercised greater caution.

Started At Terrible Pace

Safety experts had expressed alarm at the slaughter on the highways from the start of the 102-hour holiday period at 6 p. m. Christmas Eve to late Saturday.

They had feared if the pace continued, nearly seven killed per hour, the toll would surpass the all-time record of 706 traffic deaths set in the four-day 1958 Christmas weekend.

The National Safety Council was hopeful that the toll would not exceed its preholiday estimate of 620.

The second worst holiday for traffic deaths was the three-day Christmas period in 1955 when 600 persons were killed. It was the nation's worst record, on an hourly basis, a death every eight minutes. In the record toll of the Christmas period in 1957 the approximate average traffic death rate was one death every 13 1/2 minutes.

There were several multiple death accidents during the long holiday weekend. Eight died in two crashes Sunday, including four young Milwaukee men in a smash-up near Racine, Wis., and four persons in a collision on icy pavement in morning fog near Greenport, Ill.

Fires took a heavy toll, including a rash of multiple deaths in dwelling blazes. The worst single fire took the lives of a mother and eight of her children in a farmhouse near Auburn, Wash. The record number of holiday fire deaths was 111 in the four-day 1951 Christmas period.

1956 Set Record

This year's overall accident death toll compares with the record of 884 in the four-day 1958 Christmas weekend.

The over-all total also compares with the 552 reported in an Associated Press tally Sunday.

Third Airline Strike Looms After Firing

By The Associated Press

The threat of a strike next month against National Airlines loomed today as two other major airlines remained grounded by labor disputes.

The Air Line Ticket Agents Assn., said in Miami Sunday it was preparing to take a strike vote over discharge of a National employee in New York last year.

A union spokesman said if the vote favored the strike, it could begin early next month.

One third of the nation's commercial airlines currently stand idle because of strikes at Eastern, Air Lines and American Airlines.

The New York Times said the federal mediators plan to offer a new proposed settlement of the dispute between Eastern and its flight engineers.

The engineers quit work Nov. 24, protesting a company demand that they qualify as jet pilots.

Machinists at Eastern went out the same day, both in support of the engineers and for an improved contract. They reached settlement with the company Dec. 14 and withdrew their pickets Sunday after official tabulation of a vote to accept the agreement.

But machinist union officials have indicated their members will not be asked to cross engineers' picket lines.

Striking pilots at American have asked for clarification of parts of a seven-point contract formula worked out by federal mediators and accepted by the company.

The pilots struck at midnight Dec. 20 over wages.

Tokyo Leader
Faces Threat

TOKYO (AP)—Prime Minister Nobusuke Kishi is facing his most serious political threat in 18 months in office following his failure to persuade three Cabinet members to resign.

The three are members of the pro-Western Kishi's Liberal Democratic party. They are part of a group of dissidents who want a bigger share of top party jobs and Cabinet posts.

The crisis was touched off when Kishi vainly tried to get a bill through Parliament giving police greater powers to crack down on leftist demonstrations.

Harriman Plans
Travel, Writing

NEW YORK (AP)—Gov. Averell Harriman says he plans to do some writing and traveling after he leaves office Jan. 1.

Harriman discussed his plans on a CBS television program.

After the program, he told newsmen he intended to go to the Soviet Union, perhaps in the spring.

Harriman, a Democrat, was defeated in his bid for re-election last month by Republican Nelson A. Rockefeller.

Private Last Rites Set For Death Victim

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The grief-stricken father of Olga Duncan, murdered Santa Barbara nurse, met his son-in-law for the first time Sunday.

Friends said Frank Duncan, the dead woman's husband, sobbed as he and Elias Kupczyk, her father, discussed tentative arrangements for her funeral at a meeting in Duncan's Hollywood apartment.

The funeral will be private at a date not fixed.

Ventura County authorities charge that Olga Duncan, 30, died because her mother-in-law, 54-year-old Mrs. Elizabeth Duncan, was jealous of the younger woman.

At a grand jury session Friday two men, Luis Moya, 22, and Augustine Baldonado, 25, repeated confessions investigators said they had given earlier, in which they told how the elder Mrs. Duncan offered them $6,000 to kill Olga, who was five months pregnant.

The body was found Dec. 21 in a shallow grave near Casitas dam in Ventura County.

Kupczyk arrived by rail from Benito, Man., in northern Canada.

Lost Balloon
Hunt Pressed

LONDON (AP)—A new call went out Sunday night for south Atlantic and Caribbean shipping to watch for the British balloon trying to span the Atlantic.

Venezuelan officials decided a report that it had come down in their country was a hoax.

The London Daily Mail, sponsor of the 3,000-mile trip, requested Lloyd's marine insurance agency to put out the radio message.

The 46-foot balloon, carrying four Britons, is trying to float from the Canary Islands to Barbados in the West Indies.

It was last heard from Dec. 17. Although the lack of radio messages has raised fears for the safety of the Small World's crew, the craft is not actually overdue.

Negro Pastor Retires, Served White Church

STAFFORD, Conn. (AP) — Eight years ago, the Rev. Dr. Roland H. Heacock created a stir when he became pastor of the Staffordville Congregational Church. Dr. Heacock is a Negro. The congregation at the century-old church is all white. Dr. Heacock retired Sunday. He will be 85 Tuesday. He looked out at his congregation, which has grown in the past eight years, and said: "We have exerted a strong and wholesome influence in the field of race relations, particularly in the Christian church. . . . We are glad that we had a part in this good work."

In his farewell sermon, the pastor recalled his arrival in 1950. The event was flashed across the nation in newspapers, radio and television as big news, he said. "Today many churches have followed our example and called Negro pastors to serve their needs and integrate their membership. Now that he's retiring, Dr. Heacock isn't going to quit working. Glove Found, Seen Lead In Family Hunt

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) — A black cloth glove provided police with their lone lead as the search for a Portland family of five entered its fourth week today. The glove was found Sunday on a highway shoulder near the site of an abandoned car about 45 miles east of here. Police showed the glove to relatives, and one said it might have belonged to Mrs. Ken Martin, 48. Police planned to show it to more of the family's friends today. Mrs. Martin, her husband, 54, and their three daughters vanished Dec. 7 after setting out in their car to find a Christmas tree. The girls are Barbara, 14; Virginia, 13; and Sue, 11. In New York, the Martins' only son, Donald, 28, said he was convinced his parents and sisters were dead. Police said witnesses had reported seeing the abandoned car, reported stolen from Venice, Calif., parked along the highway near Cascade Locks since Dec. 8—the day after the family vanished. It was in a rockchuck of that area—where Martin had purchased gasoline with a credit card Dec. 7—that the glove was found 15 feet from where the car was abandoned.

New Warning Over Berlin Made By Reds

West Told Nuclear Weapons Would Be Used If Provoked

BERLIN (UPI) — Moscow and the East German Communists rattled Soviet inter-continental rockets today with a new warning of war if the West refuses to bow to Communist demands to get out of Berlin.

The Soviet Communist Party newspaper Pravda said that "any provocation in West Berlin and attempted aggression against the German Democratic Republic (East Germany) may start a major war." It added that in such a war Russia would have "the most up-to-date arms, including inter-continental rockets which are invulnerable carriers of powerful thermonuclear warheads." The East German Communist newspaper, Berliner Zeitung, said the East would use the most modern weapons if the West tried to use tanks to break a new Berlin blockade. It also hinted the East Germans might interfere with Western Allied air and rail traffic to the city. The new Communist threats (alled to dim the defiance of West Berlin Mayor Willy Brandt, who praised the recent NATO foreign ministers' rejection of the Soviet proposal to make Berlin a free city.

Cameron, president of the Publishers Assn. of New York City, estimated the cost of the strike to the newspaper publishing business alone at 25 million dollars in revenue. The City Commerce Department said that retail stores, lacking normal advertising channels during the heavy holiday shopping season, missed about 7 per cent of sales potential. ## Selective Breeding May Produce Better Oyster

WASHINGTON (AP) — Oyster researchers hope to produce a better bivalve through selective breeding.

"We hope to get a better oyster and indications are it can be done," said John B. Glude, chief of the Branch of Shell Fisheries in the Interior Department.

The breeding would be patterned after work pioneered with clams, where experiments have brought out desirable characteristics in the some from northern waters and others from Florida.

The oyster research is planned at a new $100,000 biological laboratory near Oxford, Md., and a branch lab at Franklin City, Va., on the Eastern Shore.

Glude explained the two laboratories will present varying conditions to study environment—the Maryland plant for brackish waters and the Virginia location for salty waters.

Researchers will also try to find ways to fatten the bivalves.

Long range aims of the improvement program include a better quality oyster; faster reproduction and possibly a thicker shell to protect against such enemies as the drill.

Glude said the potential in this research work is great and added, "Remember, they probably

Bouncers Nab 'Peeping Tom'

DALLAS (AP)—Bouncers at a burlesque house thought they had caught a burglar when a man climbed through the ceiling of the dressing room, narrowly missing three strippers.

But the man insisted he had not come to rob a safe on the second floor. He said he was just a patron who had climbed up to the attic to peep into the dressing room.

While squinting through the peephole, he said, he lost his balance and fell through.

Stock Profit Deadline Nearing

By ELMER C. WALKER

UPI Financial Editor

NEW YORK (UPI) — This is the last ordinary year in the time for the year-end rally of long traded stocks to gather momentum.

This is no ordinary year, and hence Wall Street experts are wondering just what the market will do.

It is no ordinary year because there has been only a minimum amount of tax loss selling—selling to establish losses for tax purposes. About the only real losers were the bears since nearly everything went up.

Traders haven't been too eager so far to take profits for 1938 because they apparently have enough of them rolled up to make their taxes big stuff.

But they may want to take profits for 1938, starting on Dec. 24, the day before Christmas, all long sales made to take profits will be assessed to the 1939 year.

For tax purposes, tax losses for 1938 can be taken right up to last tick on Dec. 31.

Delivery Needed

For tax purposes, the Revenue Bureau holds that a sale of stock to register a capital gain must involve a delivery. The Stock Exchange rule on delivery says it must be made on the fourth business day following the day of contract. There are only three delivery days left after Dec. 24—the 28th, 30th, and 31st.

A great many people want to take some profits in the 1939 tax year and they may elect to do some profit-taking starting on Wednesday.

That would seem to be a good day to do it, say the experts, since it is the day before a four-day market holiday, when many will want to be out of the market anyhow.

The market is to be closed the Friday after Christmas but it will operate as usual the day after New Year's Day.

There could be some further reinvestment of interest and dividends in the last few trading days of 1938 and if the market is high enough it could well offset the selling for tax purposes that might develop.

Some Rise Sharply

The surprise stock split of AT&T, incidentally, is focusing attention on other split candidates more than $1,000,000,000 during the year.

Wall Streeters doubt this stock will be dumped for profits. It will be dumped for profits. It will be dumped for profits.

Wall Street considers almost any stock selling above $100 a share as a split candidate. When the telephone shares are brought out to provide for the split up, the total of shares listed will soar well over the five billion mark. That figure may be attained even before the new Telephone stock is listed.

Incidentally the outstanding shares of American Telephone are valued at around $15,800,000,000. That is a figure larger than the value of all shares listed on the New York Stock Exchange on July 1, 1932.

Held Closely

From the year's low to the high this year, American Telephone shares have risen about $50 each—just about a one-third appreciation. That means the holders of American Telephone stock have seen their paper profits rise by

Frictionless Bearings On Autos

By DAVID J. WLIKIE
AP Automotive Writer

DETROIT (AP) — Frictionless bearings that require no lubrication apparently are coming in for wider use in automobiles.

Initially the bearings have been one leading car maker is contested on automobile front ends, ducting experiments with the ex-They have been used for knuckle haust system at the front end, and ball joints, especially in steering mechanisms.

The frictionless bearings are standing upright under each front made of strong plastic and cotton fender," Ward says. Without lubrication, they showed no signs of appreciable wear or oxidation.

Another innovation may be the relocation of exhaust mufflers. The agency adds that the rear-discharging systems as presently designed are expensive and inefficient and interfere with good car frame construction practice.

It does not presently appear likely the so-called trans-axle system on front-end exhaust installation will be introduced before 1961 or 1962. Preliminary work on 1960 models already is well along.

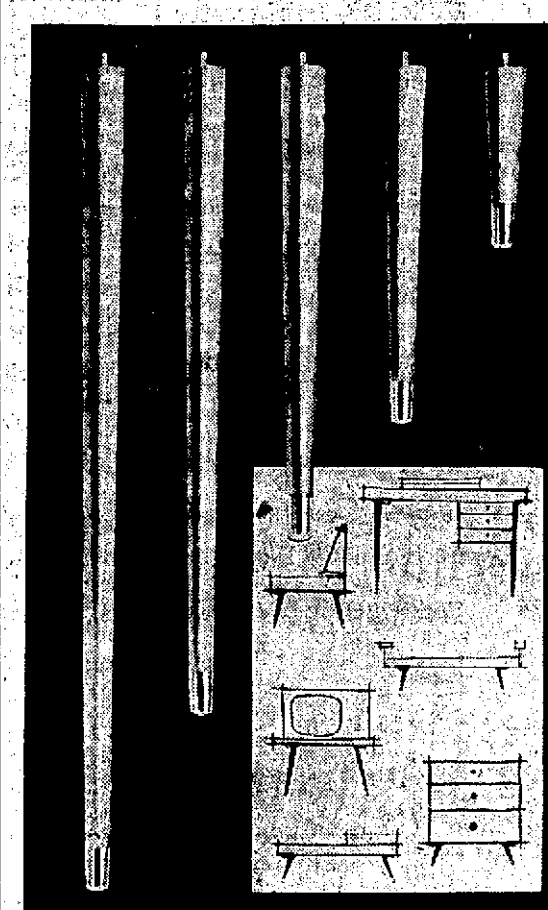

Most industry experts agree however, that car engineers are about ready for a major operation on the hump in the car floor. Needed to provide space for the transmission and drive shaft, it has increased in size as the cars have been lowered in height.

Scots Criticize Island Name Change

EDINBURGH, Scotland (UPI)— announce the change here. The Scottish villagers raised a hue and cry today against American Stewart and Huston who bought Holy Island at the mouth of Scotland's Clyde River and changed its name to St. Molaise Isle.

However, residents along the banks of the Clyde said the name had been named to the board of trustees of the Twentieth Century Fund.

Named To Board

NEW YORK (UPI)— Arthur F. Burns, chairman of President Eisenhower's Council of Economic Advisors from 1953 to 1959, has been named to the board of trustees of the Twentieth Century Fund.

'58 Big Year For GIs Serving In Europe

By JOHN CALLICOAT
United Press International

FRANKFURT, Germany (UPI)— Any way you look at it, 1958 was a big year for U. S. forces in Europe.

There was a troop movement to and, eventually, from Lebanon. And there was Pfc. Elvis Presley.

But the event that personally touched the greatest number of soldiers and their families in Europe was the long-awaited end of military "funny money."

The gaudy military payment certificates, including paper nickels, dimes and quarters, went out of circulation on May 27. They had been in use since World War II, and their conversion — into good old stateside greenbacks — involved more than 100 million dollars.

The "funny money" was retained only in the United Kingdom, Libya, Morocco and Iceland.

Black Market Continues
The scrip originally was introduced to halt a flourishing black market and inflation in occupied countries, but the black market continued.

In the Lebanon troop movement, about 15,000 U. S. troops and airmen were sent into that country to safeguard the revolt-torn regime.

They included 5,000 Marines of the U. S. 6th Fleet, 1,600 airborne troopers of the 24th Infantry Division from Augsburg, Germany, and paratroopers from Germany and France. Many were called away from their families on less than an hour's notice.

One of the year's most popular events was the inauguration of the American Forces Network in France. It already was a troop stand-by in Germany and Italy.

Presley Invasion
On May 23, the first five limited range stations began beaming their "stateside" newscasts, comedy and drama programs and disc jockey shows to the France-based U. S. soldiers.

Then there was the European invasion by rock 'n' roll trooper Elvis Presley, who still is on assignment in Germany.

To his music-loving Army buddies, that was a bigger story than Lebanon.

There were two cases involving soldiers who reappeared after long absences, and one disappearance. Sgt. William Brown touched off one of the Army's biggest search operations when he disappeared from Heidelberg, Germany, with his Japanese wife and two children. He turned up seven months later in Chicago.

Deserter Reappears
Pvt. Wayne Powers, an all-but-forgotten World War II deserter, reappeared with a French wife and five children after 14 years of hiding. His wife, Yvette, was expecting a sixth child when Powers was sentenced to 10 years, but he was later set free.

The latest case involved 42-year-old Pvt. Jonathan Morris of Wheeling, W. Va., who returned

Perfect Cast Saves Youngster

FLEETWOOD, England (UPI)— Fisherman James Stansfield, 52, saved 3-year-old Robert Reid from drowning Sunday by hooking the child's shirt with a 20-yard cast.

Stansfield saw Robert fall into the water from an embankment upstream. As the boy floated by face down, Stansfield cast out with his fishing rod and snared the child's shirt. He reeled the boy in and administered artificial respiration until Robert regained consciousness.

Playwright Urges Amity In World

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)— Playwright Tennessee Williams gives the human race 10 years if it doesn't settle down in amity.

"People talk glibly about what kind of cars they will have in 1970 and how long it will take to get to the moon," Williams told a Sunday Herald interviewer.

"We have speeded up time itself, travel in jets . . . and talk seriously about living in outer space which we haven't yet learned to live on earth without fighting each other."

Country Club Drive Tops Member Goal

KEYSER — The subscription campaign for the proposed Keyser Country Club has topped its goal of 200 members, according to James H. Swadley Jr. and Charles H. Vossler, co-chairmen of the drive.

Plans are being made for payment of subscriptions by Thursday, January 15, the co-chairmen said, adding that a stock committee composed of G. Harley Dixon, Vossler and Swadley are preparing notices to that effect for immediate mailing.

The money received, it was explained, will be held in local banks in escrow until $40,000 is reached, when application for a corporation charter will be made.

Plans call for the construction of a swimming pool, golf course and tennis courts at the proposed site. Temporary officers of the Keyser Country Club said it will be recommended that a dues schedule be set up on a graduated basis, depending on the use of the facilities by members.

Swadley and Vossler said the subscription response indicates that between $45,000 and $50,000 will be attained in the near future.

Head Wound Kills Everett Area Sawyer

EVERETT — A 40-year-old sawyer was found dead in the kitchen of his home here yesterday morning. Pennsylvania authorities said the man died a gunshot wound in his head.

Floyd Daniel Cornell, 224 West Street, was discovered lying on the floor about 9 a. m. yesterday by his wife, Mrs. Sara G. (Wilkinson) Cornell.

Dr. J. H. Kinsley, Bedford County coroner, said Cornell died sometime Saturday night from a rifle bullet in his head which apparently was self-inflicted.

Cornell was born March 9, 1908, in Clearville, Pa., a son of Mr. and Mrs. Elizabeth (Schoenberger) Cornell and the late Louis Cornell. He was married to Miss Sara Wilkinson of Bedford County on February 16, 1928.

He was a member of the Church of the Brethren of Martinsburg, Pa., a veteran of World War I, and belonged to the Improved Order of Red Men, Wampanoag Tribe 507 of Everett, and American Legion Post 8, of Everett.

Cornell was employed by the Jack Calhoun Lumber Company of Everett.

Besides his mother and widow he is survived by five children, Mrs. Vera Jean Rose, Everett; Robert D. Cornell, RD 2; Mrs. Barbara Emily Clark, Star Route; and Judy Katharine Cornell and Floyd John Cornell, both at home; a brother, Palmer Andrew Cornell, Aurora, Colo.; and a sister, Mrs. Vera Klier, Williamsburg, Pa. Seven grandchildren also survive.

Services will be held Wednesday at 2 p. m. at the Stewart Funeral Home with Rev. Fred Bowman officiating. Interment will be in Fairview Cemetery, Martinsburg, Pa.

Joseph H. Long, Dean W. Va. Conservation Newspaper Publishers, Dies

HUNTINGTON, W. Va. (UPI)—Joseph H. Long, chairman of the Huntington Ohio Bridge Co. and publisher of the Huntington Herald-Dispatch, died Sunday night at the Huntington home of his son, Walker Long, publisher of the Herald-Dispatch.

The 95-year-old dean of West Virginia newspaper publishers had been living with his son since September, 1955, when he suffered a stroke.

At the time of his death, the older Long also was chairman of the board of WSAX radio and television in Huntington. He also served a term as president of the old West Virginia Publishers Assn.

Entered Field in 1893

Long entered the publishing field in 1893 when he came here and purchased the Huntington Herald. He was the oldest living member of the original directors of the Southern Newspaper Publishers Assn.

A native of Pennsylvania, Long started work as a printer in Wheeling in 1881 at the age of 18. He moved to Huntington in 1893 and two years later entered the daily newspaper field with the purchase of the Advertiser.

The newspaper grew and prospered under his direction, and in 1927 he and his sons negotiated a merger with the morning Herald-Dispatch. The Longs also operated radio station WSAX here and shortly after World War II founded the state's first television station, WSAX-TV.

Active In Politics

Long also was active in civic affairs and in Democratic party politics; serving as finance director of the 1932 campaign, although he never sought elective office for himself. He also directed Rush D. Holt's successful campaign for the U. S. Senate in 1934.

The veteran publisher was born near Jonestown, Pa., on May 21, 1863, the son of Edward C. and Sarah Roebuck Long, and was reared in Pennsylvania.

He went to Wheeling in 1881 to work as a printer on the Wheeling Sunday Leader, then to Erie, Pa., for several years before returning to Wheeling in 1885 to become head of the mechanical department of the Wheeling Register.

In 1890, he and the late H. C. Ogden founded the Wheeling News, forming a partnership that thrived until Long came to Huntington to launch his career alone.

Held Many Posts

In addition to his publishing activities, Long held important executive posts in many business and civic organizations. He had served as president of the Ohio Valley Bus Co. and as a director of the First National Bank and the Huntington Ohio Bridge Co. For many years he was treasurer of the First Congregational Church here.

He served as postmaster of Huntington from 1918 to 1921 and through his work with the Chamber of Commerce, was a major force in the city's civic and business development. He served as chamber president for five terms beginning in 1934 and took an active part in road and school development.

His public services included membership on a statewide tax study committee, the Cabell County Welfare Board, and the state public works advisory committee. He also had served as treasurer and vice president of the state Newspaper Publishers Assn.

Long also was known as the father of the United High School Press, the state organization of students of journalism, and was guest of honor at the organization's annual banquets.

He married Cora Hildreth Thompson at Steubenville, Ohio, in 1894. Mrs. Long died in 1944. Two sons, Edward H. Long and Luther T. Long, preceded him in death.

Region Students Award Winners

Three area students have been awarded scholarships in the West Virginia University School of Journalism, according to Warren K. Agee, director.

Two of the winners are from Keyser in neighboring Mineral County. They are Thomas J. Melody, who has received the scholarship offered by the Charleston Daily Mail and Gazette, and Richard Pendergast, winner of the Charleston Press Club scholarship.

Ruth Cuppert, Petersburg, was a recipient of one of the scholarships offered by the university's Board of Governors.

Clerks Consider Asking Fee Hike

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (UPI)—The West Virginia Assn. of County and Circuit Clerks is considering asking the next Legislature to raise fees for marriage licenses in the state from $2 to $5.

Under the proposal $3.75 would be turned over to county governments. It would be collected in two $2.50 fees, the first coming at the time of application and the second when the permit is issued.

The $2 fee now collected is split evenly between the county and the state.

Readjustment In Old Age Attitude Sought

NEW YORK (UPI) — Science and the aged, but there's hardly any being theoretical about the problems of old people and start being aware there is something fundamentally wrong in society's attitude toward the aged, a psychiatrist who has explored many old minds told a scientific meeting.

"True, we don't kill them any more as do some primitive tribes although it would be an act of mercy in some cases," said Dr. Joost A. M. Meerloo. "Neither do they have to obey the law of suicide as in other tribes."

"What are we doing in our society? We have a fetish which dominates our thinking — the glamor of youth. We hate the appearance of gray hair and wrinkles. A culture of glamor and success tolerates only rising success."

"That is why every suggestion of decline becomes so traumatic. This is true not only for old age but whenever no chance of a return to success is possible. Retirement for many is symbolic of the message, 'now you must die. And many obey the verdict rather soon."

Work Symbolizes Value
"Those who make the compulsive rules of retirement have forgotten that work is not only a means of earning a living but that it is part of a value system that keeps up man's self-esteem. It symbolizes man's value in the eyes of others, especially the sex partner. No work, no libido."

Meerloo has worked with the aged for years, first in Rotterdam, now in New York. He works with their minds and emotions, using the tools of psychotherapy, which include those of psychoanalysis. His patients are both private and clients of New York's Vanderbilt Clinic.

His oldest regular patients are 72, 73, 82 and 86. A medical student asked him "why we so ardently try to treat those aged patients who had no future," he said.

"I answered him that we do so because psychotherapy gives them back their past. For many a patient it is a stimulating experience to discover that his own past can be explored in the light of today's self-understanding and possibilities for new adjustment."

Piling Up Literature
Science is piling up a vast literature on the problems of aging and the aged, but there's hardly anything in it about what doctors can do about them in a curative way, he said. Doctors are reluctant to work with the aged, he said, and usually this is because of their own unresolved relationships with their own parents and the general fear of growing old.

Yet psychotherapy can be successful in 50 per cent of senile cases, in his opinion, even when there is definite body damage due to aging, such as hardened arteries in the brain. The big trouble is that science prescribes the sterile geriatric rules which are followed up by social workers only. Science must be thoroughly realistic about the problems, since 25 per cent of the population now is over 50.

"It is no fun to grow old and to witness the breakdown of many of the body instruments and powers we have trained and built up during a life time," Meerloo said. "In an aggressive, competitive society, old age is looked on as a handicap. It is no fun to find oneself rejected and depressed and to be subjected to the same emotional traumatic difficulties we had to overcome in our infancy."

Meerloo's lecture is being circulated among its members by the Medical Society of the state of New York.

Work Delayed On Monument

WASHINGTON (AP) — Renovation work at the Washington Monument is being delayed because of a possible fire hazard.

Iron workers working high inside the monument have temporarily quit welding because of fear that sparks might ignite dust, dirt and grease in the elevator shaft and cause a fire. This might trap the men above the blaze.

The old elevator is being replaced as part of the repair work. Everett O'Brien, construction chief for the National Capital Parks, said his office would see to it that all necessary safety precautions are taken.

Soil Test Urged By County Agent

County Agent Joseph M. Rees has recommended that farmers and gardeners in Allegany County have soil tested.

Soil can be sent to the Maryland Extension Service, laboratory at College Park and results made known in ten days, he said. This will enable the county agent to recommend the kind and amount of lime and fertilizer for crops. He can also give advice about the best time for applying lime and fertilizer.

TV Networks On Talk Binge; 'Rawhide' Western Might Replace Gleason

By WILLIAM EWALD
NEW YORK (UPI)—The charge that television is destroying the art of good talk has always struck me as a rather cockeyed complaint.

It's a melancholy truth that the halls of converse are tenanted by a limited number of practitioners anyway. Most of what passes for conversation in our time is usually only a halting exchange of good natured insult.

Be that as it may, TV—a medium which recently has gone on a talk binge—really discharged a squall of colloquy Sunday. I counted five and one half network hours of verbal traffic, all of it devoted to either 1958 in retrospect or 1959 in prospect.

The longest of these was the afternoon CBS-TV, The Year Gone By, a two hour dip into the arts and sciences in 1958. The antiquarians who examined business, books, movies, TV and such included James Conant, Russell Lykes, Clifton Fadiman and Louis Kronenberger, some of them not rocketed at each other as they quite studio-broken, but all of looked back and forward. The show, Projection '59, was built on a minimum of visual right and very forthrightly around talk and very forthrightly around talk and very forthrightly around talk.

I recall someone calling the nation as "a WPA project" and someone else referring to Nasser as "a lug." No matter what side of the fence a network performer is on, it's heartening to hear an opinion expressed, any kind of opinion.

ABC-TV also had a one hour roundup of the year, Prolog 1959. I only caught one half of it because it overlapped CBS-TV's Corraling of a Decade, Years of Crsis: 1948-1958. The ABC-TV show with photographer Yousef Karsh, made liberal use of film clips and look a nice, crisp straightforward approach. The CBS-TV hour provided a suitable garnish to the evening—well-organized and moderately crackly.

One further note on one other talk show—Ed Murrow's CBS-TV Squall World. It had Vivien Leigh, Kenneth Tynan and Sam Goldwyn on board and it was a fine half-hour. I will say though that Goldwyn seemed in over his head—he is a man enormously enamored of cliches.

The Channel Swim: A one hour Western, Rawhide, is the hottest contender to replace the Jackie Gleason Show and Trackdown on CBS-TV Jan. 9. Rawhide stars Eric Fleming and Clint Eastwood. Trackdown probably will be shifted by CBS-TV to another spot, possibly Wednesday night where the drama show, Pursuit, is shaky.

CBS-TV's Person to Person will originate outside the United States for the first time in six years on Jan. 9 when Ed Murrow chats appearance on the NBC-TV George Gobel show Jan. 13.

The latest Nielsen ratings from Great Britain show three American shows — Dotto, Wagon Train and Twenty One — holding down mile-an-hour chase.

He told police he sped away because he was afraid of losing his head in booked into the Jan. 7 Mill-driver's license for running the stop sign.

Parking Meters Return $39,000

Cumberland's parking meters provide the city an annual revenue of about $39,000.

City Auditor Arthur B. Gibson said that city parking meter receipts are remaining steady or increasing slightly despite the fact that several new parking lots have just been opened in downtown locations.

Although the total yield from parking meters is not great, it does mean that this income amounts to the equivalent of five or six cents on the city's tax rate.

Since the more stringent regulations on parking violations went into effect here November 15 there has been an increase in parking meter receipts. That indicates that car owners are becoming a little more careful about depositing coins in the meters when parking.

In Hagerstown there are 242 meters, and city officials estimate the annual yield at $62,000. Frederick gets about $55,000 a year from 930 meters, some of which are situated on parking lots. Oakland in Garrett County has 170 meters which brought in $9,335 last year.

260 Patients Led From Blazing Asylum

TOPEKA, Kan. (AP)—About 260 patients of the Topeka State Mental Hospital were removed without injury Sunday after fire broke out in a 70-year-old wing of the building.

Dr. Alfred P. Bay, superintendent, estimated the loss at $15,000 to $20,000.

OUR COUNTRY

The union of hearts, the union of hands and the flag of our Union forever—Morris.

DeGaulle's Chance

IF CHARLES de Gaulle would have run in an American presidential election the way he did in France, he'd have swept the 48 states with their total 531 electoral votes. Indeed, he so dominated the voting for the first president of France's new Fifth Republic that most Americans hardly realized he had a couple of opponents. In burying his Communist and Socialist adversaries, de Gaulle once more proved impressively how great is his hold upon the French people today. Few elected public figures in the world ever get the chance he did this year to win a sort of triple crown in politics.

FIRST HE GAINED smashing endorsement of the new national constitution he proposed. Then the French elected an Assembly which, while too heavily weighted to the right for de Gaulle's taste, nevertheless is marked chiefly by support for him. Now his success has been capped by his election for seven years to France's new, greatly strengthened presidency. Manifestly de Gaulle today holds in his hands all the ingredients of supreme power and authority. Yet none who know him expects him to abuse this broad grant. Since he returned to the French helm as premier last June, the general has shown a remarkable ability to act forcefully while staying within democratic bounds.

WIDELY appreciated today as a man of well-considered, but decisive action, with a resourceful, inventive mind, de Gaulle has before him a chance no Frenchman has had in decades. If he now fulfills even a reasonable measure of the promise his stature and power seem to portend, not only France but all the free world will be the gainer. France's great adventure, its dramatic quest for stability and lasting solutions to chronic problems, has entered its high phase. It should hardly be necessary to say we wish de Gaulle and the French the very best of good luck. For as their fortunes go, so do ours.

Age In High Office

PRESIDENT Eisenhower is on the way to being the oldest man to occupy the White House, but he has not yet arrived. On Dec. 7 he was 68 years and 55 days old, thus breaking by a day the record of William Henry Harrison. Commentators forgot Andrew Jackson, who left office when 69 years and 354 days old. President Truman also served until he was 68 years and 263 days old. Other rulers far surpass our presidents in age. Germany's Chancellor Konrad Adenauer is 82 and still going strong. His famous predecessor, Count Otto von Bismarck, was dismissed by Emperor Wilhelm II at the age of seventy-five. Winston Churchill kept the British premiership until he was eighty-one. Viscount Palmerston died in 1865 in the 10th year of his premiership and the 81st of his age. And even Palmerston fell behind William E. Gladstone, whose fourth premiership lasted until his 85th year. Despite these instances of extreme age in high office, it can be argued persuasively that the situation in the United States of today is different. The presidency is such a cruelly demanding job that it is doubtful whether any man of advanced age could handle it adequately.

A NEW PLAY based on the Lincoln-Douglas debates will be welcome emphasis of the fact that not all differences in that era were settled with six-shooters.

To Abolish Tipping

TO TIP OR NOT to tip is a question periodically dusted off, though never settled. Some persons complain about having to give tips for rather inconsequential services. Others are quick to note that, without tips, many who hold any one of a variety of service jobs would not be able to make a living. There is merit on both sides of the argument. More significantly, those who argue the matter are often inclined to agree on one point—that the system of tipping probably will end only when better wages make tips unnecessary.

A MANUFACTURER reports a big increase in red underwear sales. Thus far this has not been traced to the Communists, but the vigilantes are working on it.

Ike Wants Teeth In New Civil Rights Bill

WASHINGTON—The civil rights program which President Eisenhower is expected to ask Congress to pass is expected now to include a two-year extension of the life of the Civil Rights Commission, plus the right for the Justice Department to intervene in all civil rights cases. When the past Congress passed its civil rights bill, it was the result of a compromise between liberals and Southerners. Section 3 of the bill, which would have given new powers of intervention in civil rights cases to the Department of Justice, was dropped.

The well-publicized frustrations of the Civil Rights Commission in obtaining voting records from Alabama officials has now made it extremely likely that a stronger bill will pass in the new session.

THERE IS NO question but that the patience of many powerful people, some of them inclined to sympathize with the South's position, has been worn thin by the events in Alabama. The Civil Rights Act was watered down in agreement with Southern leaders, they say, and President Eisenhower long pains to give the South strong representation on the commission.

Alabama's failure to comply with its orders, and the character of its recalcitrance, have done more to harden attitude here than the troubles over compliance with the Supreme Court's opinions in the school integration cases.

ON BOTH the Democratic and Republican sides of the aisle, in both houses of the new Congress, will be men eager to push a more effective Civil Rights Act. The votes will be there to pass it. This is what is behind the last-ditch effort which Southern members of Congress are making to maintain the filibuster rule of the Senate and the veto power of the conservative Rules Committee of the House.

Although the convening of Congress is still two weeks away, members have begun streaming to the capital, most of them intent on getting into the struggle which is already well underway.

THE DEGREE to which some important opinion in Washington has hardened against the South is obvious from the fact that serious proposals of economic sanctions against intransigent states are being made.

Attorney General Rogers, is given credit for the proposals that military and other Federal installations in states which defy the Federal government be abandoned, moved, or reduced.

Even President Eisenhower, who has gone far to attempt to conciliate the South and sought to do so in his appointments to the Civil Rights Commission, seems to have lost much of his patience.

The part of the South which has failed to give an inch may now find it has lost a mile.

Income Tax Boys Eye Expense Accounts

WASHINGTON—(NEA)—Christmas or other gifts and all entertainment for government officials will be scrutinized more carefully than before in Internal Revenue Service examination of 1958 income tax returns.

This should run up a flag for private contractors and salesmen doing business with government. It is also a warning for lobbyists entertaining congressmen and for newspapermen or private business contact men who customarily entertain government officials.

It is the result of IRS continuing interest in padded expense account deductions claimed by taxpayers as business expenses, plus disclosures that Bernard Goldfine tried to charge off his lavish gifts to ex-presidential assistants Sherman Adams and others as tax deductions.

NO NEW regulation to spell out all this is likely to come from the recently appointed Internal Revenue Commissioner Dana Latham.

There haven't been enough violations detected thus far to warrant a new directive. Also, many questions of fact have to be determined on each separate return. Items which might be allowed as deductible in one case might not be approved on others. What's justifiable can't be easily defined.

But Undersecretary of Treasury Fred S. Scribner Jr. recently warned that the Revenue Service was going to be tougher on expense account deductions. And field officers of the Revenue Service are reported more alert than formerly in determining legal business deductions.

Present law and regulations say that a taxpayer can deduct any expense that is "ordinary and necessary" for carrying on his trade or business.

"ORDINARY" is taken to mean usual, or established by custom. "Necessary" obviously means that the business couldn't be obtained or run successfully without the expense.

There are also provisions in the U.S. code which make it a criminal offense for government officials to receive gifts that might influence their decisions. Applying these standards to the

Glancing Sideways

NEW YORK — Once upon a time in an era called The Depression I wanted to get away from things, so I got 3,000 miles away. I went to Hollywood and was invited to a party.

The guests were people who had, at various times, made as much as $3,000 a week each. But that night they played a game with fake money and went at things as though they were real. The game was called Monopoly and I made up my mind if I ever met the man who invented it, I'd tell him how his game fascinated about 10 people with potentials of maybe $25,000 a week between them. Or among them.

IT TURNS out, years later, that the man is Charles P. Darrow of Bucks County, Pa., who was born in Cumberland, Md. on August 10, 1889. He invented the game in the grim summer of 1930, when he was 41 years old and wondering how to cook a wolf.

"I did everything," he said. "Everything. I cut out jigsaw puzzles, made toys and had insomnia. Who didn't? Some people in New York were even jumping out of windows. I took a circular piece of left-over linoleum one day and laid out the basic game. I typed the title cards on old shirtboards. I had some wooden beading, from the lumber yard and made the houses and hotels.

MY WIFE and I played it to keep our minds off our miseries, never even thinking of selling it. Then we had some friends in and they played it with us and the winner wanted a copy for himself. I charged him $4. It got so where I was making a set or two a day and the news was spreading. After making 100 sets at $4 each, our ladder was supplied but I was slumped. I knew I had to manufacture or give up. Friends pitched in. One printed the game board, another made the pieces, we had the title cards made.

I COULD make six games a day now, and they sold as fast as I made them. I had to contract for printing, packaging and delivery. Buyers from stores began coming by to see the game customers had asked for. Before the depression was really over I was on a 20,000-games-a-year basis. I fished facts. I had to borrow bank money to keep going or sell out to a games company. The Parker people made an attractive offer and I took it rather than embroil myself in bank loans and clatter. I have never regretted doing business with

March And Counter-March

WASHINGTON—The Senate Republicans are in extraordinary disarray, as in anxiety and almost in panic they await the opening of the new Congress.

At every hand are evidences of division between the orthodox, old-line Republicans and the liberal or modern Republicans—who by and large have significantly stopped calling themselves "Eisenhower Republicans."

The liberals are demanding a louder voice in the Senate Republican leadership, where they have not had any real voice at all in half a generation. There is a good deal of marching and counter-marching in this campaign of rebellion, and its total hopes and intentions are hardly clear yet.

AT MINIMUM, however, it seems to involve a fairly determined challenge to Senator Everett McKinley Dirksen of Illinois, the prospective Senate GOP leader in succession to former Senator William Knowland of California. It does not, however, seem to contemplate any challenge at all to the GOP power house on the Old Guard side, Senator Styles Bridges of New Hampshire.

To put in an attack on Republican Old Guard direction of the party without firing a shot at Bridges is like attacking an enemy division while carefully avoiding any hostile action against an enemy army.

In short, the liberals were able to push Dirksen aside—and this is most unlikely—they would have accomplished little in any practical way. For Bridges, as chairman of the Senate GOP Policy Committee, will be the real Republican leader next time, no matter who holds that title and no matter how successful may seem any liberal "revolt."

THIS IS SO because the essen-

Assignment America

NEW YORK—The American housewife has no one but herself to blame for the high cost of meats. Just ask your friendly neighborhood butcher or, as many refer to him, "the robber."

The butcher, as a class, is the victim of ineptful buyers. He considers Mrs. U. S. Housewife the most spoiled, extravagant shopper in the world, which no doubt she is. "She will buy only the choicest cuts of meat—and if a hunk of beef costs less than, say, 79 cents a pound, she won't have it. Thinks it's not good enough for her."

WE QUOTE our friendly neighborhood butcher who, in respect for his tender digestive tract, prefers to be anonymous. "Not only that, she resents any suggestion from me that she buy a moderate priced chop or roast. It is like a personal affront to her husband's financial situation. She must keep up with the Joneses, I guess, and they eat tenderloin."

The result of this extravagance on the part of housewives is that butchers are "stuck" with their boiling and stewing cuts, and their variety meats. They try desperately to sell them, but no dice. Since they cannot sell the portion of a cow from the mid-section forward—they must raise the prices on its derriere.

According to Carlton Fredericks, one of the nation's leading nutritionists, this is not only financially foolhardy of the housewife; it does not make sense, healthwise.

He reports that in New York today, lamb stew is being sold at 25 to 30 cents a pound, whereas loin lamb chops are anywhere from $1 to $1.50 a pound.

"Granted that the appearance and desirability is all in favor of the lamb chop," says Fredericks, "we must still realize that, from the nutritive aspect, 50 cents worth of stew lamb offers several times the value of a pound of lamb chops at three times the cost."

"THE SAME situation exists with beef and pork. And as for liver. The housewife has taken on an unreasonable love for calves liver. This has forced the immature and relatively less nutritious calves liver to a ridiculously high price, in comparison with the more nutritious and equally edible beef and pork livers."

"It's all so ridiculous," said the butcher. "But what can you do? 'This is the age of prosperity. And with prosperity comes pride. And with pride comes high prices. I just wish women would understand that, and stop belly-aching.' And with that he cut us a club steak, at $1.89 a pound, and wished us a prosperous New Year.

It had better be.

George Dixon

Washington Scene

WASHINGTON — The other evening a 70-year-old retired Government Printing Office employee, an automobile salesman, a veteran Washington policeman, a used car salesman, and a retired Marine, sat down for a friendly poker game in the salesman's home. The play was modest because there wasn't much money in the crowd. But, at 1:45 A. M., three holdup men burst in.

They took all the cash, and the cop's service pistol. The police were called in, and what do you imagine was their first official move? They suspended the bereft cop.

The victim could have used a few words of sympathy, but instead he got a lecture that he had violated the District of Columbia code by being in a place where gambling was going on.

By no rare coincidence, four of the most illustrious members of the United States Senate were playing poker at the same exact time. Like the stickup victims, they were in a private home, although somewhat more sybaritic. There was only one major difference.

THE POKER playing lawmakers are more stuck-up, but they weren't stuck up. I do not want you to think that I am rising to the defense of gambling, because it is a most reprehensible vice, especially when you lose.

But, if the Metropolitan police invoked the District of Columbia code against every official who might be in a place where gambling was going on they would have to start at a rather well-known address. Both the occupant and his wife play cards for money there—and if you must know their names they are Dwight David and Mamie Geneva Doud Eisenhower.

Many afternoons, evenings and late nights they could catch Mamie playing Bolivia for dough with her Card Cabinet, which includes her younger sister, Mike Moore, Baroness Silvercruys, wife of the Belgian Ambassador, and Mary Allen—whose divorcee husband, George, plays money bridge with the President, both here and at Gettysburg. Another who frequently tilts for cash with Ike is Gen. Al Gruenther, president of the Red Cross.

President Truman was never heisted, but it is nonetheless true that he used to play for cash on the table with his poker-playing cronies, who included the leaders of the two Houses of Congress. Regulars at the Truman games, which had a Major General kibitzing, were House Majority Leader John W. McCormack and Senate Majority Leader Scott Lucas.

Everybody in Washington, including the chief of the Metropolitan Police vice squad, knew this—but there was no talk of suspending anybody.

I DO NOT INTEND to identify the four Senators who were gaming at the same time as the suspended cop, because it has been estimated that 22 percent of our elected Representatives gamble, and it would be unfair to single out any four. I will, however, name a few Senators who play cards for money.

Senator Robert S. Kerr, of Oklahoma, doesn't drink or smoke, but he plays gin rummy for cash, and keeps score of his winnings, which are considerable. Senator Karl E. Mundt, of South Dakota, is a pillar of the church, but he's also a stiff money poker player.

So are Senators Clinton P. Anderson, of New Mexico, and Thomas E. Martin, of Iowa. Not even the rules are suspended when they play poker.

If it's a violation of the District code to be in a place where gambling is going on, it's a good thing for many of the nation's most respected personages that our race tracks are all outside the city limits—or the FBI would have a couple of notable suspensions.

Mrs. Parkhurst, State MCPT Organizer, Dies

BALTIMORE (AP)—Mrs. Harry Ethel Parkhurst, an organizer and president of the Maryland Congress of Parents and Teachers for about 17 years, died yesterday after a brief illness.

Mrs. Parkhurst, 79, was also on the executive board of the National Congress of Parents and Teachers, edited "The Maryland Parent-Teacher" magazine and was a charter member of the Middle Atlantic States Council of Parents and Teachers.

She was the second woman named to the Baltimore City School Board.

A native of Somerset County, Mrs. Parkhurst was born on a farm near Princess Anne and lived in Salisbury for two years.

In addition to her PTA work, Mrs. Parkhurst was active in civic affairs, including the Red Cross and programs for servicemen in World War I.

She helped organize the Maryland Congress of Parents and Teachers, then known as the Congress of Mothers and Parent-Teacher Assn. and was its president until she stepped down in 1927. She was an honorary president until her death.

Mrs. Parkhurst's husband, an attorney, died in 1951. One son survives, George Vaseel Parkhurst of Baltimore.

Hoot Gibson Returns To Films

By BOB THOMAS AP Movie-TV Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Hoot Gibson is back before the movie cameras, and that news should evoke a flock of memories from veteran movie goers.

TV viewers, too. The Hoot Gibson westerns have been a staple in the television market since the early days of the medium.

How does he look? Older, of course. Hoot marked his 66th birthday last August. And he's not as spry as he used to be. He broke a hip three years ago and it hasn't really healed.

"I broke it the first time when I crashed in the air races in Los Angeles in 1933," he recalled. "Three years ago, I was climbing up a ridge on a horse. The horse slipped, and I couldn't get out from under. I smashed all the cartilage in the joint."

Hoot now has to limp along, and that's exasperating to a man who has devoted his life to speed. But he's still agile enough to be making his 275th film, his first in six years. He's making "The Horse Soldiers" for John Ford, who directed Hoot's first big film, "Action," in 1922.

What a life he has had. He's a real Westerner, born and reared in Tekamah, Neb. He got his nickname as a kid, because he liked to hunt for hoot owls in caves. At 16, he left home to drive horses from Nevada to California.

"Then I got started riding in rodeos," he said. "I'd do that in the summer, then come to Hollywood in the winter and ride in pictures. Started down here in 1910. It was pretty good money—$5 a day, and $2.50 if you had to fall off the horse."

Hoot became one of the great Western stars in the era that included Tom Mix, Tim McCoy, Buck Jones and Ken Maynard.

After finishing a long series for Monogram in 1945, he quit films. He came back briefly to play in "The Marshal's Daughter" for Ken Murray, but has devoted most of his time to real estate and oil interests.

Lenin Top Seller

LONDON (UPI)—Five more volumes of the "Complete Works of Lenin" will top Communist China's list of new books for 1953, the New China news agency said today.

Dan Dailey Tussles With Two Officers

HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—Actor Dan Dailey, 45, had a ground-rolling tussle with two policemen that ended with the lanky hooper being handcuffed, officers said today.

He was due in court by Van Nuys Municipal Court later today for arraignment on a drunk driving charge.

Dailey and his wife, Gwen, 41, the former wife of actor Donald O'Connor, had a few drinks with bandleader Louis Prima. His wife, Keely Smith, shortly before Dailey's car smashed into the rear of another car in a thick fog early Sunday, he told officers.

Mrs. Dailey was "loud, boisterous, profane and abusive," officers said.

"She was warned to hold her voice down," they reported. "We were aware she also had been drinking and we advised her not to try to make things worse than they were."

She was not held.

WM Division Switched To Dial Service

Western Maryland Has New System For West Offices

Offices and points on the Western Division of the Western Maryland Railway were switched over to dial telephone service as of today.

The new system was started this morning at division offices here, with K. L. Muse, Hagerstown, signal and communications engineer for the railroad in charge, assisted by C. W. Steinhilber, division signal supervisor. For the C&P Telephone Company were Harry Larrick and Lester Denen, service foreman, and Charles Smith, local plant wire chief.

This marked the second step on the railroad's program of hooking up a 2,000-mile network on the Western Maryland system.

Two Installations

There are two installations of dial equipment in the remodeled depot of the railroad here.

One is the railroad's dial mechanism over which, after today, all of the offices on the Western Division may contact each other without having to go through the railroad's operator.

Personnel here may dial directly to Western Maryland offices in Elkins and Connellyville, and points along the line. They may dial directly to the switchboard in Hagerstown where the operator will handle the call manually.

Cable Connects

In another section of the first floor of the depot here has been installed dial equipment leased from the C&P Telephone Company.

A cable connects the two installations so that calls can be made through the Cumberland exchange directly from railway offices here.

Steinhilber has been in charge of construction and Denen and Larrick were coordinators for the telephone company.

Muse pointed out that the first project in the overall program was the consolidation of two switchboards to dial in the Baltimore main offices of the company.

Hagerstown Next

The third step will be switching Hagerstown to complete dial service.

That will be done when the new Western Maryland office building is completed at the Hub City.

Until railroad offices at Hagerstown are switched to dial, that point serves as a dividing line for direct service between the west and east as far as the company's equipment is concerned.

Muse said today that there will be an operator to handle incoming calls at the local switchboard between 8 a. m. and 5 p. m. Monday through Friday.

After those hours there will be night numbers for direct dialing into the offices from the Cumberland exchange. These, which will be in the new C&P directory that will be mailed January 22, are as follows:

Chief dispatcher, PA 43472; freight office, PA 20250; master mechanic, Maryland Junction, RE 83313; caller's office, RE 83024; police department, PA 44331; and yardmaster, Ridgeley yard, PA 47691.

Holy Hour Set At St. Patrick's

St. Patrick's Catholic Church will observe a Holy Hour from 7:30 to 8:30 p. m. on New Year's Eve, according to Right Rev. J. Lawrence Kilkenny, pastor. The service will be conducted by a priest of the Order of Mary Immaculate, Msgr. Kilkenny said.

Confessions will be heard that day from 4:15 to 6 p. m. and after the Holy Hour.

New Substation Of PE In Service

The Potomac Light and Power Company, a subsidiary of Potomac Edison Company, has placed into service at Berkeley Springs a $101,000 substation.

E. Millard Dunham, Berkeley Springs district manager, said the operation is part of a $15,000,000 modernization program undertaken by the Potomac Edison.

Holiday Event Set

The annual holiday dance of the Cumberland Police Boys Club will be held tomorrow from 8 to 11 p. m. at the quarters, North Centre Street. Refreshments will be served.

Cumberland Firm Given Contract For Park Work

Slept Construction and Sales Company, this city, is the successful bidder on a backstop and fencing for a ballfield and tennis courts in Constitution Park.

The bid was accepted this morning by the Mayor and Council in the amount of $7,153.02 and will be charged to the "Recreation Bond Issue of 1947."

Street Commissioner John J. Long said it will be up to Recreation Director Eugene Mason and City Engineer Charles R. Nuzum to follow through on this. He said he wants to see

RAILROAD GETS DIAL SYSTEM—The Western Division of the Western Maryland Railway switched to dial today and as a result direct calls can be made from the division offices here to others along the line and in Elkins, Connellyville, and this city. Hagerstown's railroad switchboard may be dialed, but the offices there have not been converted from manual. Above, second from right in the railroad's dial equipment room at the local office, is Charles W. Steinhilber, division supervisor of signals and communications. At right is Harry W. Larrick, service foreman for the C&P Telephone Company which has its equipment in another location in the building. Center is George L. Baldwin, railroad inspector of communications. The equipment shown here is for the railroad's telephone system. The C&P-leased mechanism handles calls for outside phones.

Court House Cellar Gets Inspection

Rowan Will Seek Fireproof Doors On Boiler Room

An inspection was made today of the Allegheny County Courthouse basement as the result of a feeder water line into the steam boilers breaking over the week end.

The night janitor pulled the fire from the boilers, until the line could be repaired. An inspector from the City of Cumberland Fire Department visited the basement today to check into fire hazards.

John J. Rowan, president of the Allegheny County Board of Commissioners, was also on hand today to inspect the situation.

In his work at the Amcelle plant of the Celanese Corporation, Rowan said, "The fire incident is a reminder of the fire underwriters in checking hazards from fire."

Among items which Rowan said he will bring up at tomorrow's session of the county commissioners will be the installation of steel fireproof doors on the boiler room.

A number of shelves in the Courthouse basement which are made of wood will also be cited by Rowan for replacement with fireproof steel types. Clerk of Court Joseph E. Boden accompanied Rowan on his inspection tour of the basement.

Probe Continues In River Case

The Maryland State Police today continued its investigation of the skill found Saturday on an island in the Potomac River near North Branch.

The skull was found by two hunters and will be sent to Baltimore for further analysis.

Authorities speculated that there is a possibility that it might be the skull of Clarence Smith, 81, of 222 Mary Street, who disappeared from his home three years ago.

Smith was reported missing three years yesterday, police said.

Father Of Mrs. Roeder Dies In Philadelphia

John Wilcox, father of Finance Commissioner Lucile Roeder, died Saturday in a rest home in Philadelphia.

Services will be held tomorrow afternoon in Philadelphia.

Barbershops Open

Union barbershops in Cumberland and Frostburg will be open Wednesday due to the New Year's Day holiday, according to Frank Greco, president.

Council Gives Employees Another "Long Weekend"

The Mayor and Council had good news for its department and employees today—another "long weekend."

Council approved an order giving the extra-day New Year's holiday. Offices and departments will close at 5 p. m. Wednesday and reopen at 9 a. m. Monday, January 5.

Council also ordered that checks be issued to employees Wednesday for the last two weeks of December. The city had the same holiday schedule for Christmas.

A number of seasonal employees for the Recreation Department were approved. They include Claude Weaver, Edward Taylor and Alvin Davis as basketball custodians at $1 an hour.

Named as basketball referees at $1 a game are Carl Phillips, Michael Hadra, Gary Davis, Gary Crabtree, Gerald Brode, William Godwin, Michael Harris, Shannon Shook, James Wisenberg, Kenneth Boggs, John Marvin, Jack Ruggles, Charles Wagley, Ivan Abe, Robert Cagle, Dorcil Kline, John Klosterman, Robert Young and Clarence Shaw.

Clingan Electrical Supply Company, this city, submitted the only bid on light bulbs which are to be used by the city. The bid was referred to Finance Commissioner Lucile Roeder.

Under the new system, meter books will be read continuously during each calendar quarter at approximately one book a day. This will leave a few days at the end of the quarter to care for inclement weather and emergencies.

The billing department will be affected to the extent that collections, posting, billing and allied work can be handled in a more efficient manner. This will be due to the more evenly distributed workload in a 13 week period as compared with seven weeks under the old system.

Light said "It is hoped that under this new system, customers wishing to pay water and sewage charges or wishing information in regard to the same may be given even more prompt and courteous service than in the past."

Church Notices Due Tomorrow

To assure publication in Saturday's church page, church notices for next Sunday must be in the Times-News office by 11 p. m. Tuesday, as New Year's Day falls on Thursday, the regular deadline day.

Light said "It is hoped that under this new system, customers wishing to pay water and sewage charges or wishing information in regard to the same may be given even more prompt and courteous service than in the past."

City Water Billing Setup Change Due

Meters Will Be Read Continuously During Quarters

Water Commissioner G. Ray Light said today the water billing and meter reading procedure will be changed effective in January.

Light released a letter from acting Chief Clerk James F. Twigg. In the letter, it was pointed out that in the past, meters have been read only during the middle seven weeks of each calendar quarter.

This method required readers to complete two books each day and did not allow for inclement weather or emergencies.

As many of the meter books contain a large number of accounts, the old system often created situations where the billing department had to set aside other duties to follow through on schedule.

Under the new system, meter books will be read continuously during each calendar quarter at approximately one book a day. This will leave a few days at the end of the quarter to care for inclement weather and emergencies.

Local Driver Found Guilty On Six Counts

Police Make Arrest After Wild Chase Over City Streets

A 25-year-old local man was fined $278.70 in Trial Magistrate Court this morning after being found guilty of six motor vehicle violations.

The man, Robert B. Portness, of 310 North Waverly Terrace, was arrested early yesterday morning after a wild automobile chase through East Side and North End.

Portness was arrested by Officers James Mason and Frank Bohn and charged with drunk driving, reckless driving, operating a car without a license, failing to stop after striking an unattended vehicle, failing to obey a command of a police officer and operating a vehicle without a registration card.

Pleads Not Guilty

Magistrate Morris Baron found the man guilty of all six charges and ordered him committed to the Allegheny County Jail for three months in default of the $278.70 fine. He pleaded not guilty to the six counts.

Officer Mason testified that at approximately 1:30 a. m. yesterday he observed Portness driving through a stop sign and red light on Decatur Street.

The officer gave chase and Portness drove the wrong way on Independence Street, the way on Walnut Street and was finally stopped at the corner of Valley and Furness streets.

Officer Mason said that as he approached Portness' car the man jammed the car into reverse and shot out Independence Street. In the 100-block of Independence Street he struck a car owned by John F. Palmer and continued on.

Goes Through Light

Officer Mason said Portness then drove through a stop sign at Bedford and Independence streets, a red light on Frederick, through another stop sign on Decatur, and was finally halted on Glenn Street.

Officer Mason testified that during the chase Portness kept the car in the middle of the streets in an effort to keep the officer from stopping him.

Officer Mason said Portness also struck a parked car owned by Helene C. Nixon of the 300-block Valley Street.

Police also charged Robert A. Smith of the 400-block Fayette Street, with permitting an unauthorized person to operate his automobile. Portness was driving Smith's car. Smith forfeited $51.45 on the charge.

No Mail Service New Year's Day In Cumberland

There will be no window service at the Post Office or mail deliveries on Thursday, New Year's Day, according to Postmaster Thomas F. Conlon.

Special delivery mail will be the only matter processed that day, the postmaster said, explaining that all other services will cease as of the last collection of mail on Wednesday, and continue until Friday morning.

A skeleton crew will handle any mail dropped at the Post Office during the holiday.

West Virginia Plans Step On Surplus Food

Area Officials Look With Favor On Possible Action

Nearly officials of West Virginia counties who are in charge of the distribution of surplus food in the needy and for school lunches looked with favor today upon an announcement by House Speaker Harry R. Paulsen (D-McDowell) that he will support any emergency appropriation necessary to revise the program.

State Department of Public Assistance Director Thomas Egbert outlined suggested federal improvements at Charleston yesterday, to a high-level meeting of state and federal officials.

Egbert said they would cost about $150,000 for the 1959-60 fiscal year and some $50,000 for the remainder of the current fiscal period.

"I think the high unemployment West Virginia is now experiencing has made the surplus commodity program of great importance," Paulsen said. "And since the federal government has literally billions of dollars in surplus foods and is providing large quantities to foreign countries, I see no reason why anyone in this state should go hungry because of the lack of basic foodstuffs."

Assurances were offered at the Wednesday session that West Virginia's army of needy persons would continue to receive the commodities.

Director Mark Garber of the food distribution division of the U. S. Department of Agriculture said the proposals outlined by Egbert were satisfactory.

The Agriculture Department had threatened to stop sending the foodstuffs to West Virginia after March 31 unless the state brought its distribution program up to minimum federal requirements.

Some Must Pay

Federal officials were particularly disturbed that in some cases, recipients of the food were obligated to help pay expenses of hauling the commodities.

Egbert's plan would set up three new warehouse distribution points, provide for hiring of 28 new workers, purchase of four new trucks and other new equipment.

The Agriculture Department also does not believe the certification of needy persons now makes sure that only those in dire circumstances are receiving the commodities.

Philip H. New York, area supervisor of the commodities distribution program said, "It is our responsibility to satisfy ourselves and Congress that the food is going only to needy persons."

As to "fees" for the food, he asserted:

"When assessments or contributions are required by the needy family we feel this to be morally and legally wrong. We consider it to be a sale of the commodities and this is prohibited under the law."

Punishment ranges up to one year imprisonment and $1,000 fine, although such maximums are usually reserved for the main lottery figures or backers.

Thomas F. Conlon, Cumberland postmaster, pointed out that chain letters in all forms involving mail are violations of postal regulations and are illegal.

It was explained that the fact that some of the new schemes call for purchases of United States savings bonds does not alter the basic illegality of the schemes.

Officials said that while the schemes give profitable returns to the few individuals who have started the schemes and whose names are at the top of the circulating lists, a basic element of fraud is involved and later joiners of the schemes invariably end up monetary losers.

County Asks Creek Sewer Survey Delay

Extension Sought To July 1 For Results Of Study

The State Department of Health will be requested by the Board of Allegheny County Commissioners to grant an extension of time on the preparation of a comprehensive engineering study leading to a method for providing sanitary sewerage facilities for the Georges Creek section between Frostburg and Westernport.

The state agency originally set January 1, 1959 as the deadline for compliance. The commissioners are asking for extension of the deadline until July 1, 1959.

The state agency on June 20, 1958, directed the Allegheny County Board of Commissioners to go ahead with such a study. Pursuant to the order the county board asked for bids last August from engineering firms.

Only One Bid

Only one bid was received from an engineering firm and this bid was later withdrawn because it was found to be in violation of the code of ethics of the American Society of Civil Engineers.

There was considerable correspondence by the board with the civil engineers group but no other action was taken. When the new board assumed office December 2, the time limit for compliance was still January 1.

Leslie J. Clark, attorney to the county board, notes in the letter to the state agency that there are only two ways in which the problem can be solved.

One would be by obtaining a declaratory decree from Circuit Court that professional services of the type specified in the state's order are not within the provisions of the code requiring the county to ask bids on projects costing in excess of $1,000.

The second method would be to ask the Legislature at its next session to pass an act specifically exempting this type of service from the competitive statute.

Clark believes the latter course is the most logical since it will solve the present controversy and any future controversy that may arise.

The matter has been discussed with the Allegheny County delegation to the Legislature and assurances have been received by the county board that legislation of this type will be made an emergency matter and will be passed as quickly as possible.

"Normal Look" Slated For New Year Fashions

By GAY PAULEY
NEW YORK (UPI)—The new year promises an old look in fashion—the normal one.
Style forecasters predict the main silhouette for 1955 will show off waistslines and legs and kill off any remnants of the trapeze and chemise. You remember them—the trapeze was one Paris designer's swinging, non-clinging innovation; the chemise had clinging only through the hips, and inspired many a cartoonist to sketch the "bow on the behind."
Well, in the months ahead, it's "back to reality," as one manufacturer sums up the style outlook: a "safe and sane spring," says another.

Modified versions of the high waistsline remain in the new clothes collections but the extremes of the empire are waning away; and everyone in the nation's garment center is talking of midriffs filled with belts which define the natural body contours.
Brims, Brims and Brims
Let's take a look at us females from head to heel, as the experts see us in the new year.

Hut division "Brims, brims, brims, in all widths from the very narrow one-inch to four and five inches," said a spokesman for the Millinery Institute. New for spring is another "oldie," the young-looking skimmer with its shallow crown and turned-up brim. Still plenty of deep, bloused crowns in the spring collections. And several milliners feature open crowns. Leading colors for spring will be the clear blues, yellows and vibrant pinks, and a creamy, not quite white.

Hairdos — The fluffy, bouffant "do" gives way to the smooth, not-tousled coiffure. The influence of the empire period remains in center parts, in soft wispy bangs, and puffiness at the back of the crown. Wigs, in real hair or synthetic material, will remain popular.

Makeup — We go into the "pale-face" period, with pale powders and foundations combined with all tones of pink in rouge and lipstick.
Phony Eyelashes To Stay
Eye makeup will be heavy, even for summer, and those phony eyelashes of plastic will go blinking on through '55.

Jewelry — More bright colors than ever, to contrast with the subdued shades which are taking over in apparel, lots of turquoise, hot pinks and coral shades. Necklaces have reached the end of their rope; short necklaces will be more popular in the new year, says the Jewelry Industry Council's fashion division. Short bibs and chokers will be favorites.

Hemlines—Tending down a little from last year's knee-displaying height. Most models in the normal waists, manufacturers' showrooms wear skirts just below the knee, but the makers are shipping garments to the stores an inch or two inches longer.

Hosiery — A colorful year for hosiery, with stockings tinted to coordinate with the rest of midday's costume.

Shoes — The pointed, toe and skinny heel dominate, but the industry reports the "squared off" toe is sneaking in. However, some of those needle heels are so thin they're dubbed the "double needle."

Dear Abby

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: Please forgive me for not signing my name but how can I impress upon the friends of my 14-year-old daughter that they cannot stay in her bedroom with the door locked even if they are "only dancing"? Boys and girls (ages 14 and 15) congregate in her bedroom for hours with the record player going and they bolt the door on me. My daughter says if I can't trust her friends it is just too bad! I would like something CONCRETE to show them how about the sidewalk?

LOCKED-OUT
DEAR LOCKED: Tell them that they are not to be in any room of the house with the door locked. If this rule is not respected and you need something more CONCRETE to show them how about the sidewalk?

DEAR ABBY: I married this guy because I thought I had to but then I turned out that I didn't have to. We never did have a family. He's a painter and if you know anything about painters they are a bunch of drunks. When he's on a job I don't see him for days at a time and I never know where to find him. We've got our name in for adoption because I'm crazy about kids, but the way he's acting we could never measure up to what they expect parents to be. He says he drinks because we've got no family and it helps him forget. Is there any hope for us?

SICK AT HEART
DEAR SICK: (and your husband is sicker): Tell your husband to get the lead out of his pants and visit a marriage counselor with you. He can be straightened out if he gets the proper help. Good luck. (P. S. ALL painters aren't drunks.)

DEAR ABBY: My problem is that my husband is gaining so much weight that I am getting ashamed to be seen with him. I try to cook low-calorie meals but he eats out a lot on business and I can't watch him. He used to be a very good looking man but now he can't even bend down to tie his own shoes. How can I make him listen to reason? GIVE UP
DEAR GIVE: A man who is digging his grave with his teeth needs to listen to a few vital statistics. His doctor or insurance company can supply them. If this doesn't convince him, it might take a head shrinker to shrink the rest of him.

DEAR ABBY: My mother starts picking on me the minute I walk in the door. It's "Don't slam the door! Pick up your feet! Hang up your things! Stand straight!" Is it just me or do other boys get ordered around like this? I am sick and tired of it. Don't tell me to talk to my father as he always sticks up for my mother. PICKED ON
DEAR PICKED: Other boys who slam doors, drag their feet, leave their clothes around and slouch get picked on, too. How about a little improvement in those departments? You'd be surprised how much your mother's disposition will improve, too.

CONFIDENTIAL TO CHARLES: Don't be afraid of opposition. Remember — a kite rises AGAINST the wind.

College Youth Allowed Drink

WASHINGTON (AP)—David B. Karlick, District of Columbia commissioner, takes the view that a young man in college should have the legal right to drink a glass of beer if he so wishes.
He took his stand in opposing a police suggestion that sales of beer and wine in the District be banned to youths under 21. Karlick said it seemed to him that young men in universities under 21 should have the privilege of taking a glass of beer "without having to drink surreptitiously."

Actor 'Middle Class' Under Caste System Theory

By VERNON SCOTT
UPI Hollywood Correspondent
HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Wendell Corey says he is a middle-class movie star—financially, at least.

It's all a part of Corey's theory the super-colossal pictures the producers don't even think of making. "The really high-priced stars make it hard on us middle-class actors," he said seriously. "For kind of money."

"Within the first few years in movies an actor usually establishes his income standard. Once it's fixed, you rarely earn more—and if you accept less it can ruin you forever."

When a producer or a studio casts a picture they call the actor's previous employer to discover what he was paid. Then they offer him the same amount.

"If you agree to take five cents less, they won't hire you," Wendell grinned. "And I've never understood why."

Sinatra Took Cut
"The only guy who ever got away with taking a drastic cut was Frank Sinatra for his role in 'From Here to Eternity.' But any one else would have been dead."

"I'll give you an example: If a player makes $100,000 per picture, and asks for $150,000, he's turned down. The producer then moves up to the next category and hires a $150,000 actor instead."

"The caste system doesn't bother me at all. I'm somewhere in between the big stars in orbit and the unobtainables."

"Some of those in orbit—who can darned near name their own price—are John Wayne, Bing Crosby, Gregory Peck, Bill Holden, Jimmy Stewart, Sinatra, Burt Lancaster and Kirk Douglas."

"Then there are the 'rich' actors who aren't quite as important, including Clark Gable, Gary Cooper and Rock Hudson. Another category is the 'sincere' or 'important' group who have marquee value and usually co-star with aging actresses."

Graduated Salaries
Corey explained actors' salaries for recognized names start at $10,000 and graduate up to almost a million dollars at $50,000 steps.

"Sometimes when an actor begins to slip he begins to take less than his standard price. He keeps taking less and less until nobody would hire him for anything," he said.

"I've known some who did this, and they are 'poor' movie stars."

To keep his income in boxcar figures Wendell, who just starred with Bob Hope in "Alias Jesse James," will undertake a new TV situation comedy series next month with child star Patty McCormack in "Peck's Bad Girl."

"I decided to appear in a series for just one reason—money."

Persons Hit By Lightning Feel Nothing

WASHINGTON (AP) — If you were struck by lightning, chances are you wouldn't hear or feel a thing, a Maryland scientist said yesterday.

Lightning bolts striking out of clouds are one-half a mile or more in length and follow a crooked path, Dr. Francis M. Defendorf of the National Bureau of Standards said.

"But they should not be of too great concern because usually less than three out of every million Americans are killed by lightning each year," he told a meeting of the American Assn. for Advancement of Science.

Dr. Defendorf of Chevy Chase, Md., said that trees and buildings may make better lightning targets than man—but man is probably a better conductor of electricity except for the metal used in building.

Sheeche Restaurant Opens At New Site

The Southern Restaurant opened today at 14 North Mechanic Street in the premises formerly known as the Diamond Restaurant.

William L. Sheeche will operate the restaurant and will be assisted by Mrs. Bernice Hacker and Mrs. Frances Cossna. Sheeche formerly operated the restaurant at the old bus terminal on North Mechanic Street which was closed in September and then razed.

Wheat Report

The wheat marketing quota program and regulations have not been changed by a recent Texas court case, Julius P. Parman, ASC chairman, said the law provides that all excess wheat is considered available for marketing and is subject to penalty regardless of how it is used.

Corey said, "I'd have to make two pictures a year to earn as much loot as I will on the TV show. This way I can do both."

The island of Singapore, 17 miles long and 27 miles wide, lies 85 miles from the equator.

It's six years before a lobster reaches one pound in weight. It takes the fat of 30 pounds of milk to make one pound of butter.

Texas had an output of 4,000,000,000 long tons of sulphur during 1938.

No scientific instrument is as sensitive to light as the eye.

West Virginia And Tennessee Meet Tonight

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. (UPI)—Scrappy West Virginia University, loser of its last two games, faces strong Tennessee tonight in the first basketball meet of the season.

The Mountaineers took their second straight beating 118-109 Saturday night to Big Ten power Northwestern in double overtime at Chicago Stadium. They are 7-3 on the season.

Tennessee, like Northwestern, has won six of seven games, including a 79-59 decision over Virginia here Saturday night. Virginia edged WVU 75-72 at Charleston, W. Va., earlier this month.

Beaten By Butler

The Volunteers are sparked by four players in double figures. Leading the list is 6-foot-8 Gene Tormohlen. He is averaging over 20 points a game. Against Virginia Tormohlen scored 28 points.

Tennessee's lone defeat was at the hands of Butler by an 81-66 margin. Its victims include Wyoming twice, Michigan, Wake Forest, Davidson and Virginia.

Northwestern and West Virginia battled tooth and nail until the Mountaineers forged a tie at 52-47 at the intermission. WVU held the advantage until Phil Warren made a basket to put the Wildcats ahead 72-71 late in the game. The regulation game ended 92-92.

Bucky Bolyard sparked the Mountaineers to a 99-99 deadlock in the first overtime just as he did hear the end of the game. But in the second extra period the Wildcats poured in 10 straight points to take a commanding 109-99 edge. West Virginia never caught up again.

Scoring Records Set

The Wildcats set two scoring records and participated in another.

Northwestern bettered the previous Stadium record of 115 points by Kentucky against Loyola Feb. 15, 1957, and also dropped in 45 field goals to beat Kentucky's mark of 43 set in the same game. The total points by both clubs set a new mark over 187 in DePaul's 94-93 win over Minnesota Dec. 4, 1954.

West Virginia scored more points against the Wildcats in history, but Northwestern's total also was its highest.

All-America candidate Jerry West, hobbled by three fouls in the first half, wound up with 37 points for WVU before fouling out with 1:28 left in the regulation game.

Northwestern's 6-9 pivotman Joe Ruklick took game honors with 28 points. Bolyard was high for the Mountaineers with 25.

Southern Cal Sports Lure 9 1/2 Millions

LOS ANGELES (AP)—"Anyone want to argue about Southern California being the sports center of the world?"

Paul Zimmerman, sports editor of the Los Angeles Times asked the question today after he said more than 9 1/2 million spectators attended major sports events in the area during 1958.

Racing showed an attendance of 4,608,919 to lead the list.

WeebEwbank 'Apologetic' For Overtime

By MURRAY ROSE
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—Coach Weeb Ewbank's five-year plan to bring the Baltimore Colts the National Football League championship has succeeded.

But with a smile on his face and tongue in cheek, he apologized for the Colts' 23-17 victory Sunday over the New York Giants at Yankee Stadium in an unprecedented sudden-death playoff.

"I miscalculated," he told Colts President Carroll Rosenbloom in the team's tumultuous dressing room.

"I predicted it would take five years to build a champion. It took me an extra quarter."

Score in Less Than 9 Minutes

Actually it took the Colts only 8:15 extra to score the winning touchdown on the arrow-straight passing of Johnny Unitas and the one-yard touchdown smash of bulldozing Alan Ameche.

"We just had to win because this was the better ball club out there," said Ewbank, a one-time assistant to Paul Brown at Cleveland. "And we never give up that's what's characteristic of a great team, to come from behind. And they have been doing it all season."

One of the many Baltimore stars was Steve Myhra, who kicked the 20-yard field goal that tied the score at 17-17 with ten seconds to go in regulation time.

Had To Hurry Kick

"I had to hurry the kick," he said. "The Giants had blocked one attempt. In the second quarter, I knew all the marbles were on the line. But I thought, 'I just couldn't let a great bunch of guys like these down. It sure felt good when it went over.'"

There was no apology from New York Coach Jim Lee Howell for his decision to play safely. "I've been in the key moments of the game, thrilling tie play-off. Both plays were fourth down and one to go situations.

The most vital call was in the fourth quarter; the other in overtime.

A short run made it fourth down and inches to go on the Giant 43. This put it up to Howell. A Giant first down would have enabled New York to run out the clock.

"There never was any doubt in my mind about calling on Don Chandler to kick," said Howell. "If we don't make the first down, then the Colts are in a spot to move up for the tying field goal."

Fraley Picks Syracuse To Surprise Oklahoma

By OSCAR FRALEY

NEW YORK (UPI)—Just in case you have any loose money left over from Christmas, Fraley's follies and the bowl game "winners"—two costly events which fortunately only come once a year.

The Big Ones

Rece Bowl—Lowa over California.
Sugar Bowl—LSU over Clemson.
Cotton Bowl—Air Force over TCU.
Orange Bowl—Syracuse over Oklahoma.

Rece Bowl

This looks like a free-scoring game and I'd be a bit cautious about giving away 17 points. The game matches two of the nation's top quarterbacks in Iowa's Randy Duncan and Cal's Joe Kapp.

Lowa has two big, fast lines and a feel-all-around attack which puts the accent on offense. California isn't too deep and while Iowa's pass defense isn't the greatest, neither are Cal's receivers. Iowa figures to grind 'em down but the hospitality kills the visitors and it could be close.

Sugar Bowl

LSU is a 14-point favorite despite the fact that it is giving away a lot of beef in the line. Sparked by Billy Cannon, it has break-taking speed and can score from any place on the field.

Clemson has a weight advantage. However, this is a slow team with a mediocre attack. It can hammer out touchdowns but doesn't figure to match LSU's gifted production.

Cotton Bowl

TCU is an eight-point favorite but from here this is the blue-plate special.

It may be sending a bunch of boys on a man's errand yet this team d-d the mighty Iowa, 13-3, early in the year. The way it looks from here, the small, jet-powered Falcons simply ran out of gas along the way through an unbeaten schedule and just made it. But they have had time to rest for this one.

TCU has a big bug in size but lost to Iowa, 17-0. As a word of caution, they played a more rugged schedule than the Academy.

Orange Bowl

This, with Oklahoma a 14 1/2 point favorite, will be a grind-it-out affair of little deception. The Orange is big, rugged and, despite Oklahoma's reputation, it Chuck Zimmerman can hit with an occasional pass at the right moment, Syracuse could win a close one. Oklahoma has a good defense and one of those old machine-like attacks. Yet, Syracuse has the heart to halt 'em.

All Quintets Of ACC In Action Today
By The Associated Press

All eight Atlantic Coast Conference basketball teams see action today. Virginia is at Vanderbilt and the other league members play first-round tournament games.

The four North Carolina members of the ACC—North Carolina, N. C. State, Duke and Wake Forest—appear in the Dixie Classic Tournament at Raleigh, N. C. Clemson and South Carolina are in the Carrousel Classic at Charlotte, N. C., and Maryland is in the Sugar Bowl Tournament at New Orleans.

All conference members were idle last week except Virginia, which lost to Tennessee 79-59 Saturday night. Consequently, the league standings remained unaltered.

North Carolina and N. C. State are tied for first with 3-0 league marks, followed by Maryland 2-1, Duke 1-1, Clemson and Wake Forest 1-2, South Carolina 0-2 and Virginia 0-3.

Today's tournament pairings: Dixie Classic—Wake Forest vs. Cincinnati, N. C. State vs. Louisville, Duke vs. Michigan State, and North Carolina vs. Yale.

Carrousel Classic—Clemson vs. George Washington and South Carolina vs. Davidson. (Other first-round pairings are St. Francis of Pennsylvania vs. Bucknell and Pittsburgh vs. Fordham.)

Sugar Bowl Tournament—Maryland vs. Mississippi State. (Memphis State plays Loyola in the other first-round game.)

After the tournaments end, the ACC calendar lists only two other games for the week, both on Saturday. Clemson is at Wake Forest and North Carolina meets Notre Dame in Charlotte.

Terps Battle

Maroons Favored Over Maryland.

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—High-scoring Bailey Howell leads unbeaten Mississippi State against Maryland and Loyola of the South goes against defending champion Memphis State in the first round of the Sugar Bowl basketball tournament tonight.

Mississippi State, undefeated in seven games and making its first start in a Sugar Bowl tournament, has the nation's second leading scorer in Howell. The 6-8 pivotman sports a 32-point plus average in his seven outings.

The Maroons, seventh ranked in the nation, are favored to topple Maryland, runner-up to Memphis State last year. The Terps received bad news yesterday when Charles McNeil, who set a Maryland scoring record with 400 points last season, remained at home with a foot infection. Maryland has won only two of six games this season.

Memphis State takes a 6-0 record into the game against Loyola, darkhorse despite the fact the Wildcat will be playing on its home floor. Loyola has a 4-3 record.

Only 1,512 See Royals Trim Lakers
By United Press International

The Royals, struggling to keep their National Basketball Association franchise alive in Cincinnati, are beginning to show signs of recovering from a disastrous start, but apparently they can't interest local fans in watching them do it.

A crowd of only 1,512—far below the break-even minimum of 4,000—turned out at the Cincinnati Garden Sunday night, and the faithful didn't go home disappointed. Fielding a young team built around the veteran Jack Twyman, the Royals dispated an early lead but came on strong in the final period to gain a 120-116 victory over the Minneapolis Lakers.

It was only the Royals' seventh victory in 30 games, but it was one of their finest efforts. Twyman rattled in 32 points to take game honors, but was ably assisted by Wayne Embury (24), Phil Rollins (23), and Jack McCarthy and Arlen Bockhorn (13 each).

Cincinnati took an early 30-14 lead and still was on top, 57-53, at halftime before the Lakers began to roll. Minneapolis finally forged ahead, 65-63, midway through the third period, but the Royals closed out the session with a 69-67 advantage.

The Lakers tied the score twice in the final period before Rollins put Cincinnati in front to stay. Seven Lakers hit for double figures with Bob Leonard the top man with 20.

It was the only game played.

Baylor Picked For All-Star
NEW YORK (UPI)—Elgin Baylor, the Minneapolis Lakers' brilliant rookie forward, was one of the 10 players selected today by writers and broadcasters for the National Basketball Association's ninth annual All-Star game to be played at Detroit, Jan. 23.

Bob Pettit, the St. Louis Hawks' 6-foot-7 forward who leads the league in scoring with a 28-point plus average, and Ken Sears of the New York Knickerbockers were the outstanding selections in each division of the league.

For the first time in the nine-year history of the All-Star game, there were no unanimous choices.

The five Eastern players chosen were center Bill Russell and guards Bob Cousy and Bill Sharman of the Boston Celtics, forward Paul Arizin of the Philadelphia Warriors, and Sears. In addition to Pettit and Baylor, the West players picked were forward Cliff Hagan and guard Slater Martin of the Hawks and guard Gene Shue of the Detroit Pistons.

Irish, St. Peter's To Meet Tonight

Colts collected victors' shares of $4,718.77 from the game. This cut, plus the bonuses from the award system set up by Coach Weeb Ewbank and Colts President Carroll D. Rosenbloom, and the wages from the All-Star game next August, made Sunday's triumph worth approximately $10,000 to each of the Baltimore players.

Unitas also received an auto for being selected the game's most valuable player.

The overtime, which ended at 8:15, was almost an anti-climax for the thrill-deadened spectators. The Giants, trailing 14-3 after Ameche's first scoring plunge and Unitas' 15-yard touchdown loss to Berry, had halted the Colts on the one late in the third period. New York then took charge in perfect weather with the temperature in the 40's.

Webster Recovers Fumble

Kyle Rote fumbled Charlie Conerly's long pass after being hit by Andy Nelson but Alex Webster scooped up the ball and ran to the one to complete an 86-yard play. Mel Triplett's plunge made it 14-10. Then the Giants drove 81 yards in four plays with Conerly passing 15 yards to Gifford for a touchdown.

That gave the Giants a 17-14 lead and they still held it when Marchetti and 288-pound tackle Gene Lipscomb hit Gifford and forced New York to punt with only 2 1/2 minutes to go. The Colts took over on their 14 and New York's inspired defense, led by Modzelewski, and Andy Robustelli and linebacker Sam Huff, appeared to have Unitas and victory in its grasp.

Unitas missed with two passes, hit Moore for 11 yards and missed again. Then he hit Berry with passes of 25, 15 and 22 yards. Myhra followed with his field goal to match the 36-yarder Pat Sumrall booted in the first period and force the overtime period.

The only other "sudden death" overtime in NFL history took place during an exhibition game at Portland, Ore., Aug. 29, 1955, with Los Angeles winning, 23-17. The losers? The Giants.

Paul Dean Turns To Gas Business
By United Press International

At the height of Dizzy Dean's career as a pitcher for the St. Louis Cardinals in 1934, his brother Paul reported to the club as a rookie and Diz promptly promised magnificent things for "me o' Paul." They delivered—Diz with a 30-7 record, Paul with 19-11. They swept the pennant and the World Series against Detroit. The next year Paul had a 19-12 record but his arm soon gave out and he never again carried out his promise of the first two seasons.

Whatever happened to Paul Dean? Now 45 and with a son of pitching age, Paul operates a service station at Dallas, Tex.

Tester Employed By Dairy Group

Herbert Shipe, of Spring Gap, has been employed as a tester by the Potomac Valley Dairy Herd Improvement Association in a program of extension by the group.

A graduate of Oldtown High School, Shipe took a short course at the University of Maryland on cattle testing. The association keeps records of dairy cattle by which the milk is weighed and tested for butterfat content. The feeding program of the cow is also checked to determine which cows are the better producers.

The program results in dairy farmers being able to determine the cows which are not producing enough milk and these animals can be culled from the herds.

Worthless Card Beats Defense

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

A Montana reader sent me today's hand with the comment: "I sat West and opened the nine of hearts. My partner's jack held that trick and he continued with his king. South won with the ace and I signaled with the six of spades."

"South led the deuce of clubs and allowed my queen to hold his trick. At this point it did not matter what I led. He had 10 tricks in high cards and I was squeezed in diamonds and spades for the eleventh. If I had discarded my queen of clubs on the second heart, lead South would have had no way to run the club suit without first letting my partner in the lead and he would have been set. Should I have won this discard?"

The answer is that he certainly should have. That queen of clubs was worth nothing in his hand because if South held the jack the whole club suit had to be good. He should have jettisoned it to give his partner a chance to get in the lead if he did have those three clubs to the jack.

Incidentally, it is worthy of note that South could have made the hand safely by winning the first heart, but South could not have been certain that East's three heart bid showed a seven card suit.

Police Quiz Scheduled In Knife Death

MARTINSBURG, W. Va. (UPI)—A 26-year-old former Martinsburg man charged in the dismemberment slaying of Otis Poole was expected to arrive here from Baltimore today for questioning.

Ivan Fitz was arrested last Wednesday in Baltimore and charged with murder. He waived extradition and agreed to return here.

State Police said the investigation into the slaying of Poole, 40-year-old widower and father of four children, had come to a standstill pending questioning of Fitz. The suspect moved to Baltimore about a year ago.

Poole had been missing from his home in Berkeley Springs since last July 21.

Also scheduled for further questioning in the killing were Charles A. Gregory, 21, Douglas Mayhew, 17, and Betty Anderson, 17, all of Martinsburg. Police said the trio was in the car when Poole was killed.

Gregory said Fitz struck Poole on the head with an auto jack handle after the older man made advances toward Miss Anderson. However, police said the girl indicated that the slaying was planned and that robbery was the motive.

Poole's dismembered body was found Tuesday in several shallow graves near Martinsburg airport. Police were led to the spot by Gregory, who had been questioned after he was found driving Poole's car.

Gregory is being held on a charge of driving Poole's car illegally, and Mayhew and Miss Anderson for parole violation pending completion of the murder investigation.

The plane was demolished but did not burn. Residents of several homes near the scene found Johnson alive, but said he died just after they arrived. He was alone.

The crash occurred near the Beach Creek section of Mingo County about one mile from the West Virginia-Kentucky border.
